WARRANTIES IMPLIED UNDER THE FAIR TRADING AND TRADE PRACTICES LAW

The Fair Trading Act 1987 and Trade Practices Act 1974 (C'th) require the dealership selling this vehicle to ensure that the vehicle matches any description given and that it is of "merchantable quality". This means that it must be fit for the purpose for which a vehicle of that nature is normally used. The amount of money you have paid for the vehicle is taken into account when determining merchantable quality.

For example, even though a vehicle is not covered by the statutory warranty under Motor Vehicle Dealers Act 1973, you are entitled to expect the dealer to repair any major defects that were present at the time of sale which prevent the vehicle from being used in the normal way. This also applies to anything that makes it unsafe to drive (eg. faulty brakes, faulty steering or major structural rust).

The requirement of merchantable quality does not apply -

- * to defects specifically drawn to your attention before teh contract of sale is made, or
- * if you examine the vehicle before the contract is made, to defects that examination should have revealed.

VEHICLES BOUGHT AT AUCTION

Vehicles purchased at auction do not carry a 'statutory warranty' if they are being auctioned on behalf of a member of the public.
